To

Secretary to Government,

Departments of Education & Agriculture,

B A N G A L O R E.

Esteemed Sir,

I beg to report, for the information of Government, a small change in the programme of my studies.

2. In my memorial dated 19th September 1913, I stated that it was my intention to study for the F.R.C.S. examination of Ireland at Dublin. I proceeded to that place accordingly and was attending the Royal College of Surgeons there for a time; but, owing to considerations of health &c., I had to leave the place and come to Edinburgh instead to take up the F.R.C.S. course here.

3. In taking this step I was guided, among other things, by the following considerations:--

(a) The F.R.C.S. course at Edinburgh is in no way inferior to that of Ireland. On the other hand, it is more elaborate comprising as it does a more detailed study of Operative Surgery, Surgical Anatomy, and Surgical Pathology, which are very important things in actual practice.

(b) Besides here in Edinburgh, it has been possible for me to select as my special subject for the Fellowship Surgical/

Surgical Pathology, which is one of the subjects which Government have been pleased to prescribe for my special study and to have had the benefit of post-graduate lectures specially arranged to be given by able Surgeons who have a reputation for their special research work.

(6) It was at the Edinburgh Royal College of Surgeons that I took the triple qualification of L.R.C.P., L.R.C.S., and L.R.F.P. & S., soon after my landing in this country, and although strict rules required that, before a candidate could appear for the F.R.C.S. of this College, a period of at least two full years should have elapsed from the time of his obtaining the qualification, the authorities have been pleased to show special exemption in my case by overlooking the shortage of a few weeks to complete the requisite period.

4. This change in my course from Ireland F.R.C.S. to Edinburgh F.R.C.S. has prolonged the period of my stay here by several months and I have therefore been compelled to seek some further help at the hands of Government.

5. I am extremely grateful to the Govt. of H.H. the Maharaja for their kindness in according a special treatment to my representations in the past and granting me a scholarship of £150 at one time and of £100 at another. But I beg to be permitted to say that these grants have scarcely been adequate to meet all/all my expenses. The accompanying vouchers in original go to show that I have paid College and examination fees alone to the extent of about £150. If to this is added a further sum of nearly £50 on account of books, instruments, etc., purchased, the total comes to nearly £200. To meet the charges for boarding, lodging, dress, &c., for these two years, I had to supplement the Government grant to a considerable extent with funds from private sources. I still require some more help for the rest of my stay here and I most humbly appeal to the generosity of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja to be graciously pleased to sanction a further sum of £150 (including a sum of £50 for return passage usually granted in the case of scholarship holders) to enable me to finish my course, take the F.[redacted]S. degree and return to my country.

6. If, for any reason, Government find it impracticable to grant my prayer as above, I would request and earnestly hope that they may at least be pleased to grant such portion of the amount as they might deem proper as a scholarship, the balance being granted as a loan repayable in easy instalments after my return from this country.

Secretary to Government, Department of Education etc., Bangalore.

Esteemed Sir,

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your Kind order no. 1423 Ed. 2-14-37 of 24th November 1914 and I very much regret the Government were not pleased to view my application favorably.

My stay in this country is nearing three years and I have during this period invested nearly £300 to supplement the Government Scholarship by raising loans from private sources. Owing to the war, the cost of living has increased my expenses considerably and I have been compelled to spend almost all the money I had to meet these enhanced expenditures. I can scarcely find it possible in these times of war to get loans from the merchants in Bangalore towards my voyage expenses.

Under these circumstances, I have therefore no alternative but to approach the benign government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore for help, and most humbly pray that a sum of £50/-, the amount usually granted to all Scholarship Students, be Kindly granted to me towards the cost for my return passage home.

I need scarcely say that I would deem it a great boon and an extra-special act of grace if the Government are graciously pleased to consider to consider my prayer favorably and render me help in my need.

I beg to remain,
Esteemed Sir,
Your most obedient & humble Servant,
